Other:

Investments aim to contribute to the achievement of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), in particular:

- SDG 3: Good health and wellbeing
- SDG 5: Gender Equality
- SDG 9: Industry, Innovation, and Infrastructure

- SDG 12: Responsible Consumption and Production

Sustainability indicators and quantitative measures to assess the contributions and their impact towards the above-mentioned SDGs are currently under development.

Investment strategy

The purpose of the Partnership is to build, hold and manage in its own name and for its own account a portfolio of equity and equity-related investments in companies originating primarily in Europe and engaged in the health sector.

As part of the due diligence and ongoing investment management, the investment team will review whether a potential investee company has good governance practices in place.

Proportion of investments

The product will only make investments aligned with the promoted environmental or social characteristics. Earlybird Health II will not invest a portion of its capital in any other asset class.

Monitoring of environmental or social characteristics

No investments will be made in the area of exclusions. That strategy is implemented during the due diligence process, where all investments that are subject to a restriction are ruled out.

Prior to any investment, the Earlybird team prepares an extensive investment memorandum including a dedicated section to ESG risk/opportunities as well as health impact-related objectives. The SDGs as described above are evaluated in that process. In case of similar expected returns, the more impactful investment will be selected. Where the investments might have a negative impact on a SDG an investment will not be further considered without cure or adequate mitigation.

The Manager follows the guidelines of the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) to strengthen transparency and self-control on the attainment of the environmental and social characteristics and has submitted an application to become a signatory with the PRI.

Methodologies of environmental or social characteristics

Earlybird Health II considers and integrates ESG aspects during all stages of the investment process.

- ESG issues are an integral part of Earlybird Health II's screening process and the fund actively raises the awareness of the investment team and the company to consider all aspects of ESG in their evaluation and to raised red flags early in the investment process.
- As part of the evaluation of a company, an ESG questionnaire needs to be completed. The questionnaire aims at confirming that the company does not have any red ESG risk issues or issues that can't be mitigated. The questionnaire is further used to assess the baseline of the company with regard to ESG and its overall impact as well as to identify focus areas for development and improvement.
- Earlybird Health II includes a sustainability clause in all new investment agreements. The company commits to developing and implementing an ESG strategy within three months of closing and a diversity policy within six months of closing. The strategy will entail appropriate measures and actions as well as a set of ESG indicators upon which progress will be tracked and reviewed by the Board of Directors.
- The Board of Directors is responsible for developing and implementing the company's sustainability strategy while the goal of the fund is to support the company to establish a framework and methodologies to manage their ESG impacts, in particular once the company scales.
- During the investment phase, the company will be required to submit the updated ESG questionnaire on an annual basis and investment managers of the fund review the provided data and follow-up if necessary.

Data sources and processing

Data is mainly obtained from the portfolio companies directly through the ESG questionnaire and its set of indicators as well as via continuous exchange on the subject but can be supplemented by information that is publicly available.

Limitations to methodologies and data

In most cases, the manager is at least partly reliant on the data provided by the (potential) portfolio companies. Due to the nature of investments complete data may not always be available. The information is verified only if and to the extent misrepresentations are suspected.

Due Diligence

All of Earlybird Health II's investment decisions are based on a thorough screening that includes ESG due diligence. In this context, the fund assesses a company's legal compliance as well as compliance with other applicable standards and practices, including potential future regulations and marketplace factors. For all data used during the due diligence, the fund mainly relies on information provided by the companies, always strictly following industry standard procedures to collect and manage ESG data. Earlybird Health II will engage with external (data-) providers to develop a further reaching due diligence in cases where more information is needed to validate the investment.

Engagement policies

Earlybird Health II invests in start-up companies in their early stages which means that usually the companies are in a pre-market phase and the teams consist mainly of the founders. Thus, the fund commits to take on an active role in assisting and coaching the entrepreneurs, including with regard to ESG issues and environmental and social impacts. The fund considers it a priority to establish and maintain a trustful and collaborative working relationship with all portfolio companies. Furthermore, Earlybird Health II wants to generate a positive impact beyond its portfolio companies and shares learnings and insights, cooperating with other VCs as well as public institutions and foundations, in order to advance the whole ecosystem. Yet, if Earlybird Health II encounters potential non-compliances with the fund's ESG strategy, the fund management will seek dialogue with the respective portfolio company and collaboratively develop mitigation measures. As a venture capital investor, the influence Earlybird Health II has on its portfolio companies through its shareholdings, however, is limited but dialogue is sought with all stakeholders on a continuous basis.
